

FEDERATION FOR ENVIRONMENT CLIMATE AND TECHNOLOGY

Instrument Technician

The Foundation for Environment, Climate and Technology (FECT) is seeking applicants for an Instrument Technician. An experienced Electronic / instrumentation technician is to install, maintain & repair scientific instruments. Data loggers which are used online monitoring of environmental variability's. Since this position is part of a small team, it shall be tailored to suit the recruited person strengths and the institutional needs for this position and other roles.

Essential competencies

- Training on principals of instruments.
- Understanding of the Electronic equipment's
- Ability to trouble shooting skills
- Willingness to travel.
- Skills to using in tools
- Ability to manage data files
- Skills to use smartphone technology

Preferred Competencies

- Communication Skills
- Written communication skills
- Team work
- Competence in other languages
- Work well with a multi-disciplinary team

Appointments are under contract with extension based on performance. To apply, ,send a CV, contacts of two professional referees and a cover letter by email to fectcv@gmail.com and hr@tropicalclimate.org